

Root canal treatments with the Endo-System by VDW – Peace of mind included

Munich, May 3rd, 2018 | Deliver root canal treatments with an optimally integrated concept from a single source. This claim is behind the campaign 'Peace of mind included – the Endo-System' by VDW.

'Peace of mind included' with the Endo-System by VDW means that dentists have a holistic system for simplified, individualised work processes. They also benefit from safety in use, time and cost efficiency and long-term treatment success.

Endodontics in four steps

The key drivers to success with VDW are products and services linked through all treatment steps:

1. Preparation

File systems such as RECIPROC® blue combined with VDW drives can be used to prepare the root canal with only one instrument.

2. Irrigation

The sonic-powered EDDY® irrigation tip cleans even complex root canal anatomies safely and efficiently.

3. Obturation

GUTTAFUSION® can be used for homogeneous, wall-adapted obturation of the root canal.

4. Post-Endo

DT Post quartz fibre posts with double taper design contribute to preserving more dentine during post-endodontic treatment.

Education and services for treatment success

The Endo-System by VDW is backed up by almost 150 years of experience in endodontics. Dentists can take advantage of this expertise with the VDW education programme. Comprehensive service and consulting offers help to set up the optimal Endo-System and integrate it into the practice routine – with peace of mind included.
